IMAGES OF POWER / REPRESENTATIONS OF THE PAST
 27.-30. November 2019

The conference „Images of Power / Representations of the Past“ focuses on the relation between images and public spheres. It addresses visual, political and ideological aspects of the 20th century as well as the possibilities of their transformation. The goal is to identify different ways of how visual art and various types of images – including images about the past – were used in order to represent or construct political power, to construct a public sphere, to influence public opinion and national identity, to promote political propaganda, to influence public opinion and national identity, to promote political propaganda, to influence public opinion and national identity.

The topic of the conference „Public Spheres, Ideology, Transformation of Power“ lies on the formation and functioning of European national systems of the 20th century. It addresses the role of the public sphere in the formation of national identity and the role of the public sphere in the formation of national identity.

The conference is organized by the University of Vienna and the University of Wittenberg.
