The publication of the NIOD report on Srebrenica in 2002 led to the resignation of the cabinet and Pronk as Minister. Satko Mujagic

At age 20, Satko Mujagic survived the concentration camps Omarska and Manjaca in northern Bosnia. He currently lives in the Netherlands and works for the Immigration and Naturalization Service. In 2004 he set up the foundation OPTIMISTI that has started several reconstruction projects in his home country. Mujagic also launched a campaign to house a memorial center in the former camp of Omarska. Since 2006, the project is on hold because of protest of local politicians.
